

Salute to Business – September 2011

North State Communications

Front Row (left to right)

Clint Farabow, Director of Marketing Communications, Business Services – North State Communications

Royster Tucker, President – North State Communications

Alan Caldwell, Director, Community & Civic Engagement - Reynolds American Services and 2011
Chairman - Winston-Salem Chamber of Commerce

Joe Smith, Sales Manager – North State Communications

Second Row (left to right)

Gayle Anderson, President & CEO - Winston-Salem Chamber of Commerce

Terry Barber, Director of Catering – Twin City Quarter

Jeff Ritz, Director of Sales – North State Communications

Third Row (left to right)

Peggy Low, Senior Vice President, Technology - Winston-Salem Chamber of Commerce

Steve Kenney, President - QC Engraving

Jeff Green, President and Publisher – The Winston-Salem Journal

Ron Stephens, Director of Marketing – Twin City Quarter

About North State Communications

One of the nation's top 15 independent communications companies, North State Communications (NSC) provides the preeminent Internet, voice, data and digital television services to businesses and consumers in the Piedmont Triad region of North Carolina.

With its robust network of high-capacity fiber optic facilities, NSC's business brand, North State Business, delivers a host of sophisticated business communications including voice and broadband Internet, networking and IP services, and critical back-up and disaster recovery data for businesses. North State Business provides communications services to the cities of High Point, Thomasville, Winston- Salem and Greensboro, serving the complex needs of some of the Triad's largest employers including High Point Regional Health System, High Point Bank, Guilford County Schools, the City of High Point and High Point University.

NSC's consumer brand, Plex, includes Plex Advanced TV, Plex Broadband Internet and Plex Voice. NSC's Plex Advanced TV and Broadband Internet services are backed by the areas only pure fiber-to-the-home network. NSC also operates a next generation wireless network delivering broadband wireless voice and data services to residents and businesses alike through a joint arrangement with AT&T.

The company's unique blend of superior technology and outstanding service delivery has made it one of the fastest growing telecommunications and home entertainment providers in the region.